Dear Sir,

RE: Manuscript submission.

I write to ask you to consider for publication in your august journal our attached manuscript entitled: "Genome editing and precision medicine: a systems biology approach" by Heath O'Brien and co-authors.

In this landmark study will revolutionise our understanding of medicine and something about CRISPR. You would be a fool to pass up an opportunity to publish it.

When you do send decide to send it to reviewers, I suggest the following junior colleagues who would be too intimidated to criticise it, even anonymously: [...]

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely

Heath O'Brien, PhD
